

Supercharge your battery sales with discounted green loans.

We've partnered with leading fintech lender Plenti to offer HEUF discounted green loans for up to 15 years on Enphase IQ Batteries – that's five years longer than is typically available.

As a requirement for Plenti's longer loan terms, batteries financed must have a corresponding or longer warranty period. It's a perfect match, as the IQ Battery boasts the Australian market's longest warranty at 15 years.

Here's why your customers will love it:

Longer loan terms:

Homeowners can spread payments over 15 years, making energy upgrades more budget-friendly.

Discounted rates:

Plenti's Green Loans come with special discounts, thanks to the Household Energy Upgrades Fund (HEUF). Learn more at www.plenti.com.au/heuf-discounted-green-loans

Bundle and save:

Homeowners can combine an IQ Battery with other renewable equipment like solar panels, heat pumps, and EV chargers in one easy loan with lower monthly repayments.
